Tendler

LEONARD COURT IN COLLECTS TEARS OVER $175,000 VICTIM

Will Now Challenge Mickey Walker for Welterweight Title

New York, July 23.—Benny Leonard, according to his manager, Billy Gibson, will challenge Mickey Walker, welterweight champion, Leonard tried last year to annex the welterweight crown but lost on a foul in the thirteenth round to Jack Britton, who a short time later bowed to the youthful Jewell Leonard today collected $175,000 in his share of the proceeds of his fight.

More than ten thousand fans saw the champion give the challenger one of the most artistic and powerful straight punches ever received. Leonard every round but the third, which he won. Lefty Lew was given long lessons from the very first day. It was during the time he could be said that Tendler had even a glimmer of chance of victory.

BENNY RYDER LEW DOWN IN THE THIRTEENTH ROUND. Leonard used the only knockdown of his in the thirteenth round. It wasn't a clean, decisive knockdown as this dispatch is written these are arguing whether it was some time before Judge Murray could sufficiently control his emotions to speak, and then he said: "There is a great deal of brutality in children in Boston, as in other big cities. I have witnessed many cases, but never one so terrible as this. I cannot believe that any boy can be so cruel to a dog like you have treated your challenger."

FIGHT FOR PARDON REVEALS ROMANCE

By BERT FORD
Concord, N. H., July 24.—A romance that had its origin in an advertisement for a house-keeper was shattered when Henry Hilliard Hobbs of Haverhill, principal in the so-called "New England Dreyfus case," was sent to New Hampshire state prison for ten to fifteen years on what he terms the trumped-up story of a fourteen-year-old high school girl of Marlboro, Mass.

"MYSTERY WOMAN" HEARD IN WARD CASE

White Plains, N. Y., July 24 (U.S.S.).—State's attorney today recalled the three "mystery women" witnesses in the Ward-Peters slaying investigation being conducted by an extraordinary grand jury here. The identity of the women, believed to be clerks in the plant of George S. Ward, millionaire baker, and father of Walter S. Ward, accused of slaying Clarence Peters, was closely guarded.

Another $500,000 Fight
A Maniac's Interest
Typewriter Athletics
Steel Co. Insurance
By Arthur Brisbane

SIXTY-FIVE THOUSAND dollars paid about $500,000 last night to see two young Jewish boys, Leonard and Tendler, fight.

Benny Leonard's ability to beat any Christian of his weight does more to create respect for Jews among Christians than all the great Jewish writers combined could do. That's our civilization.

CONCERNING YOUR digestion, notice that the young fighters, having been weighed to prove that they were under 135 pounds, early in the day ate a moderate meal, lay down to sleep for the afternoon and did not eat again until after the fight. Remember that if you eat heartily at noon and then expect to work, drawing to your brain the blood that the stomach needs, you are inevitably cheating either stomach or brain.

F. W. STUYDAN, confined in the insane asylum in 1871, had less than $20,000. The supreme court now distributes among his heirs a million dollars. Because he was insane, the piling up of interest kept on with the remorseless certainty of arithmetic, and less than fifty thousand dollars became a million.

It should not be necessary for a man to go crazy in order to get interest work for him. But that is mind when you pass a savings bank instead of going in.

BIRDIE RICHES, sixteen years old, uses on the typewriter two fingers on each hand and makes twenty words a second. As an athletic performance that is more remarkable than anything done by prizefighters or basketball players. That the hands should bear words in dictation, divide those words instantaneously into letters and write them down twenty in the second is a real athletic marvel.

Many a young woman at her typewriter displays more remarkable nervous and physical equipment than Mr. Dunspey ever dreamed of.

LIFE INSURANCE business in the United States increased to nearly three thousand million dollars in the first six months of 1923. The wise man insures his life. But modern insurance with costly solicitors will one day be replaced by simplified insurance. In other words, the population will insure itself.

THAT SOUNDING STRANGER, perhaps. But it has been done by the United States Steel Corporation.

Long ago, when Judge Gary took charge of the company, he started a system of insurance for the company by the company in the face of much opposition. The property has ever since paid for all of its losses, charging itself only seventy per cent. of the usual premiums, and has saved up a little nest egg of thirty millions. Things can be done if you try.

PROFESSOR HALLIDAY, an able British scientist, says the real wealth of the world is in the wind that blows above us. Windmills could supply the earth with light, heat and power, if they were properly developed. They could, and fortunately those winds will blow on long after the coal is gone.

No need to worry about power, light or heat while the winds blow, tides move and the sun shines.

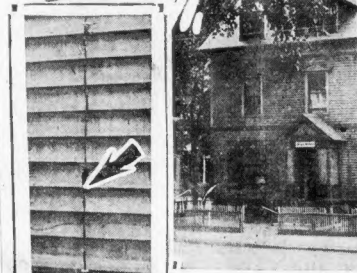

YOU READ "Rich Americans are hiring fine shooting places in Scotland." Grouse are scarce, the breeding season was bad. But there are plenty of pheasants and other things to shoot.

You bow in respectful homage, bow slightly, cringed, Americans, who travel three thousand miles, not to see Scotland, land of beauty and history, but to shoot little birds, especially those that the prospector may come and butcher them.

A DISPATCH from Rome announces that two Italian doctors, Cristina and Carolina, have isolated the bacillus of scarlet fever and use, effectively, a serum safe from all bacteria. That is the most important medical news since the perfecting of diphtheria serum. All doctors will tell you that scarlet fever is a disease and a method of infection, are among their most difficult problems.

Mrs. Morris and her son declare that Miss Alice Mansfield (left) is only one of the girls in the life of Dr. Abraham S. Morris of Haverhill. His trail is "screen with peaches," she says, in discussing the raid she engineered on their home which resulted in the arrest of the nurse and physician. No carefully arranged were the details that even the telephone wires were out as shown at left. The Haverhill home is pictured above.

PHONE WIRE CUT

MOLLOY GROUP IS OUSTED BY A. F. OF L.

Local I. A. of the Telephone Operators' Union in Boston, headed by Miss Annie C. Molloy, was read out of the American Federation of Labor for "enacting the role of strike-breakers" in the present telephone operators' strike.

The local is credited with having 4,000 members. Maria Joyce, secretary-treasurer of the state branch of the American Federation of Labor, confirmed the report of the "reading out process," and declared no "organization" composed of "strike-breakers" can hold membership in the organization.

Joyce said the American Federation of Labor is standing firm behind the striking members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, led by Miss Julia S. O'Connor.

Communications setting forth the reason for ousting the old operators' local from the big American labor body have been forwarded to officials of the ousted organization and will be read at a meeting of that organization in Chelsea Hall, Tremont Temple, it has been learned.

Miss Julia S. O'Connor, president of the Telephone Operators' Department, together with Mrs. Mary Wynne of Springfield and Miss Margaret Hickey of Brockton, members of the wage conference committee, were in secret conference somewhere outside the city walls late last night. No statement as to its outcome or purpose was forthcoming.

MAY COLLINS IS FACING CHARGE OF CONTEMPT

New York, July 24.—May Collins, the actress, reported at one time to have been engaged to marry Charlie Chaplin and who played the leading role in "My Darling Clementine," when Victor Tobin left the show, will probably have to face a charge of contempt of court.

Miss Collins' troubles grew out of a suit of $11,000 which she acknowledged owing a Los Angeles department store for wearing a gown.

This week she signed a confession of judgment, she said. The confession required her to appear before the court on September 2 of the amount owed for examination fees when the case was called she did not appear nor was she represented by a lawyer.

Her attorney leaves her open to action for contempt.

When told of her predicament Miss Collins admitted she signed

Boy Showing How He'd Kill Burglar, Slays Chum

New Haven, July 24.—"What would you do if a burglar came in?" said Wilbur McLeod, 11 years old to Willie Gardner, 15, who had found a toy rifle and had it in his hand.

"This is what I would do," said Willie, pointing the trigger at Wilbur and pulling the trigger. A report followed.

The bullet, which entered Wilbur's head, severed an artery leading from the heart, and the youngster died to death before medical aid could reach him.

The confession of judgment but was tricked into doing so by an attorney for the Los Angeles firm.

TURKS 'BACK IN EUROPE,' SIGN TREATY

Lausanne, July 24. (A.P.)—The League of Nations formally re-establishing peace between the European Powers and Turkey, was signed today.

Soviet Russia's decision to adhere to this agreement stands out as the most significant single feature of the Lausanne Conference. Bolshevik Russia probably has committed Russia for all time to opening the straits to free-of-way, thus giving a new turn to history.

Turkey comes back into Europe and by restoration of Eastern Thrace to her sovereignty, becomes the bridge between the East and the West; she joins the League of Nations and enters the European concert of peoples on the footing of equality.

WALSKA PLANS NEW TOUR; WILL PROVE SHE CAN SING

Chicago, July 24. (U.N.S.)—Mina Walska, who in private life is the wife of Harold McCormick, the harvest magnate, is a most determined person.

Critics say she cannot sing. She insists she can and is going to prove it. Her various debuts, both in America and abroad, were failures, the newspapers say. Mrs. Walska said, but not a bit daunted.

Then, after coming she announced plans for a future appearance in America.

She was studying the role of Countess in Mozart's "Don Giovanni," she said, and Miss Altruda, somewhere in America, who was going to sing it.

"I shall sing in Chicago, too, this Autumn," she said determinedly. Mr. McCormick, who, stood by learning at her, was asked if he were willing that she should go on with her singing as a profession.

"I want her to be happy," he said simply. "Besides, why should I want her to stay in the pursuit of an art which is the throat of the fine arts?"

SEND TO HUB FOR HARPOON TO KILL NEBRASKA MONSTER

Omaha, Neb., July 24.—An order to a Boston firm for a harpoon, line and whaling gun was mailed from the town of Alliance, Neb., today.

For two years reports have come from farmers residing near Albion Lake, west of the village of Alliance, that an amphibious monster, a half-man, half-beast, had been seen. The monster, it was said, had been seen to appear in the water late in the evening and to appear in the water late in the evening.

SUPERIOR SERVICE

of last year created a shortage which has not yet been made up although conditions are much improved over those of a year ago.

Dealers have been delivering coal as fast as it reached their wharves but it has now become evident that the amount of Furnace, Egg and Stove sizes that can be received prior to October first will be far short of the amount necessary to deliver in full each order that has already been accepted.

The Coal Burning Season
begins in October and all those who depend upon us must have some coal on hand by that time with which to start their fires. Therefore, in fairness to all and recognizing our obligation as a Semi-Public Service Corporation, we shall endeavor to deliver, in turn, as rapidly as possible,

Fifty Per Cent of Each Order and expect in this way to have every customer well supplied before the coal will actually be required for consumption.

Nut, Pea and Buckwheat sizes and Soft Coal are in better supply and for the present, orders for these will be delivered in full.

We feel the above plan is absolutely necessary and therefore strictly in line with

Staples Superior Service
and our effort to keep our customers closely in touch with all new ideas and improvements having to do with economic heating.

How to Economize on Anthracite
Send for our circular on how to economize. It will be instructive. Try our plan by ordering some Nut, Pea, Buckwheat or Soft Coal, which we can deliver in addition to your 50% of the larger size.

There May or May Not Be a Suspension
If there should be a suspension of mining on September first and each customer has on hand a portion of his requirements, coal should be available before a further supply is required. If there is no suspension we should be able to complete all orders during the Fall months.

5,000 TEL HOW TO WIN PEACE

EDUCATION ON FALSE BASIS

First of Many Candidates for $100,000 Prize Give Anti-War Ideas

By JACK CARBERRY.
New York, July 24 (I.N.S.).—World peace is a simple matter

First—Changing the present financial system.

Second—Altering the heart of mankind by religion.

Third—Making over the world's educational system.

Such at least, is the conclusion drawn from the first 5,000 letters received by Edward W. Bok whose offer of $100,000 for the best practical plan by which world peace may be achieved has buried the New York office under an avalanche of mail.

ALL LANGUAGE LETTERS
In every tongue—four letters cannot even be identified as to language—plans for world peace poured into Bok's office.

Typical examples of plans offered are:

"Get rid of Wall street—money causes war."
Such letters in nine cases out of ten conclude: "I hope I win the $100,000."

"Make legislation which will send every man to church—if all men were religious we'd have no war."
"Only by educating the children of today against war can we have peace."

Many persons pleaded to present peace plans in person.

Today was held the second of the Boston American's excursions to the popular resort down the harbor. Three steamers carried a record crowd of 4,500 children and their mothers. all the way from Baltimore to tell you how to have peace," one visitor told Esther Everett Lape, noted writer, in charge of Bok's office today. "I can't write, so I want to talk to look about this."

DEMAND REPRESENTATIVE
The group urging that the manufacture of munitions be stopped is about tied with the number pleading that America arm to the teeth. The suggestion that the people vote on war is another favorite.

The contest goes to every American citizen, will continue until November when a committee representing the great labor, fraternal and business organizations of the nation will be asked to submit a number of selected plans to their membership for a referendum.

"We expect not less than 100,000 plans," Mrs. Lape said today.

WARNS AMERICA TO STAY OUT OF EUROPE
New York, July 24 (I.N.S.).—A warning to the United States to "stay out of Europe" was issued by George H. Reynolds, chairman of the board of the Chicago Continental and Commercial National Bank, on his return from a six months' study of economic conditions abroad. Reynolds declared the "lack of cooperation" between Europe and nations prevented the United States from lending a "helping hand" in restoring normal economic conditions. He voiced "unalterable opposition" to American participation in settlement of the European dispute.

EUROPE EAGER FOR U. S. CASH, SAYS WALSH

U. S. Senator David I. Walsh, Democrat, of Massachusetts, who has just returned from a several months' tour of Europe, here tells for the DAILY AMERICAN what Europe's actual economic condition is today and what Europe wants from America—

By DAVID I. WALSH.
New York, July 24. (Copyright, 1923, by C.N.S.)—The governments of Europe—I am excepting the British Isles, as I did not visit them on a tour from which I have just returned—are not concerned with America's attitude toward the League of Nations or the World Court.

You never hear the question as to when or why we do not participate in or become members of either of these associations. You do, however, hear this question: "What is America willing to do financially for Europe?" The chief international questions today that interest Europe are: In the United States willing to cancel our debts to foreign governments?

WILL U. S. LOAN MONEY.
Will we loan money to stabilize the economic system of Europe? Putting it in another way Europe is not interested in receiving moral advice or leadership. It considers itself capable of moving its own domestic and foreign affairs. Europe is ready and willing to receive our financial support. Whether we go into the League of Nations or the World Court is inconsequential so far as Europe is concerned. The suggestion which I have brought home to my countrymen is this: Let us be practical as Europe is and announce whether we are willing to cancel our debts and assume new obligations from the foreign governments. Let me add that Europe is not bleeding, neither is she in a chaotic state. The reconstruction following the World War has gone on marvelously well, considering everything. The countries of Europe are rapidly getting back to their peace time prosperity.

DANGER IN THE REAR.
One serious political question is still at hand, nevertheless. It is the question of the Ruhr. That question is pregnant with the most serious consequences. The League of Nations is evidently unwilling to force it. In my opinion serious results will follow, again threatening the peace of the world and the main League of Commerce institutions in general if Great Britain and America do not boldly declare themselves in a move to bring Germany and France together. Perhaps the time has not yet arrived for such an act, but it cannot be far distant, if war or worse than war is to be checked in the future.

NEW LAW URGED TO CURB FUMIGATION

City fire and health authorities have become convinced that there should be some official supervision of fumigation, since the Congress street fire at which the firemen encountered fumes as bad and penetrating that they were unable to withstand them in spite of the gas masks.

Theodore Glynn, Commissioner of the city departments most affected to formulate an ordinance governing the practice. He said that the proposed ordinance would probably affect the city building department. For this reason he thought that Building Commissioner John H. Mahoney ought to be consulted.

'G SING'S DEATH HOUSE HAS RADIO

New York, July 24.—A radio set is to be installed in the death house at Sing Sing to give the condemned their last contact with the outside world.

The idea originated with the chief electrician at the prison and was sponsored by Captain Stanley J. Sheppard of the Salvation Army, who also is a State parole officer.

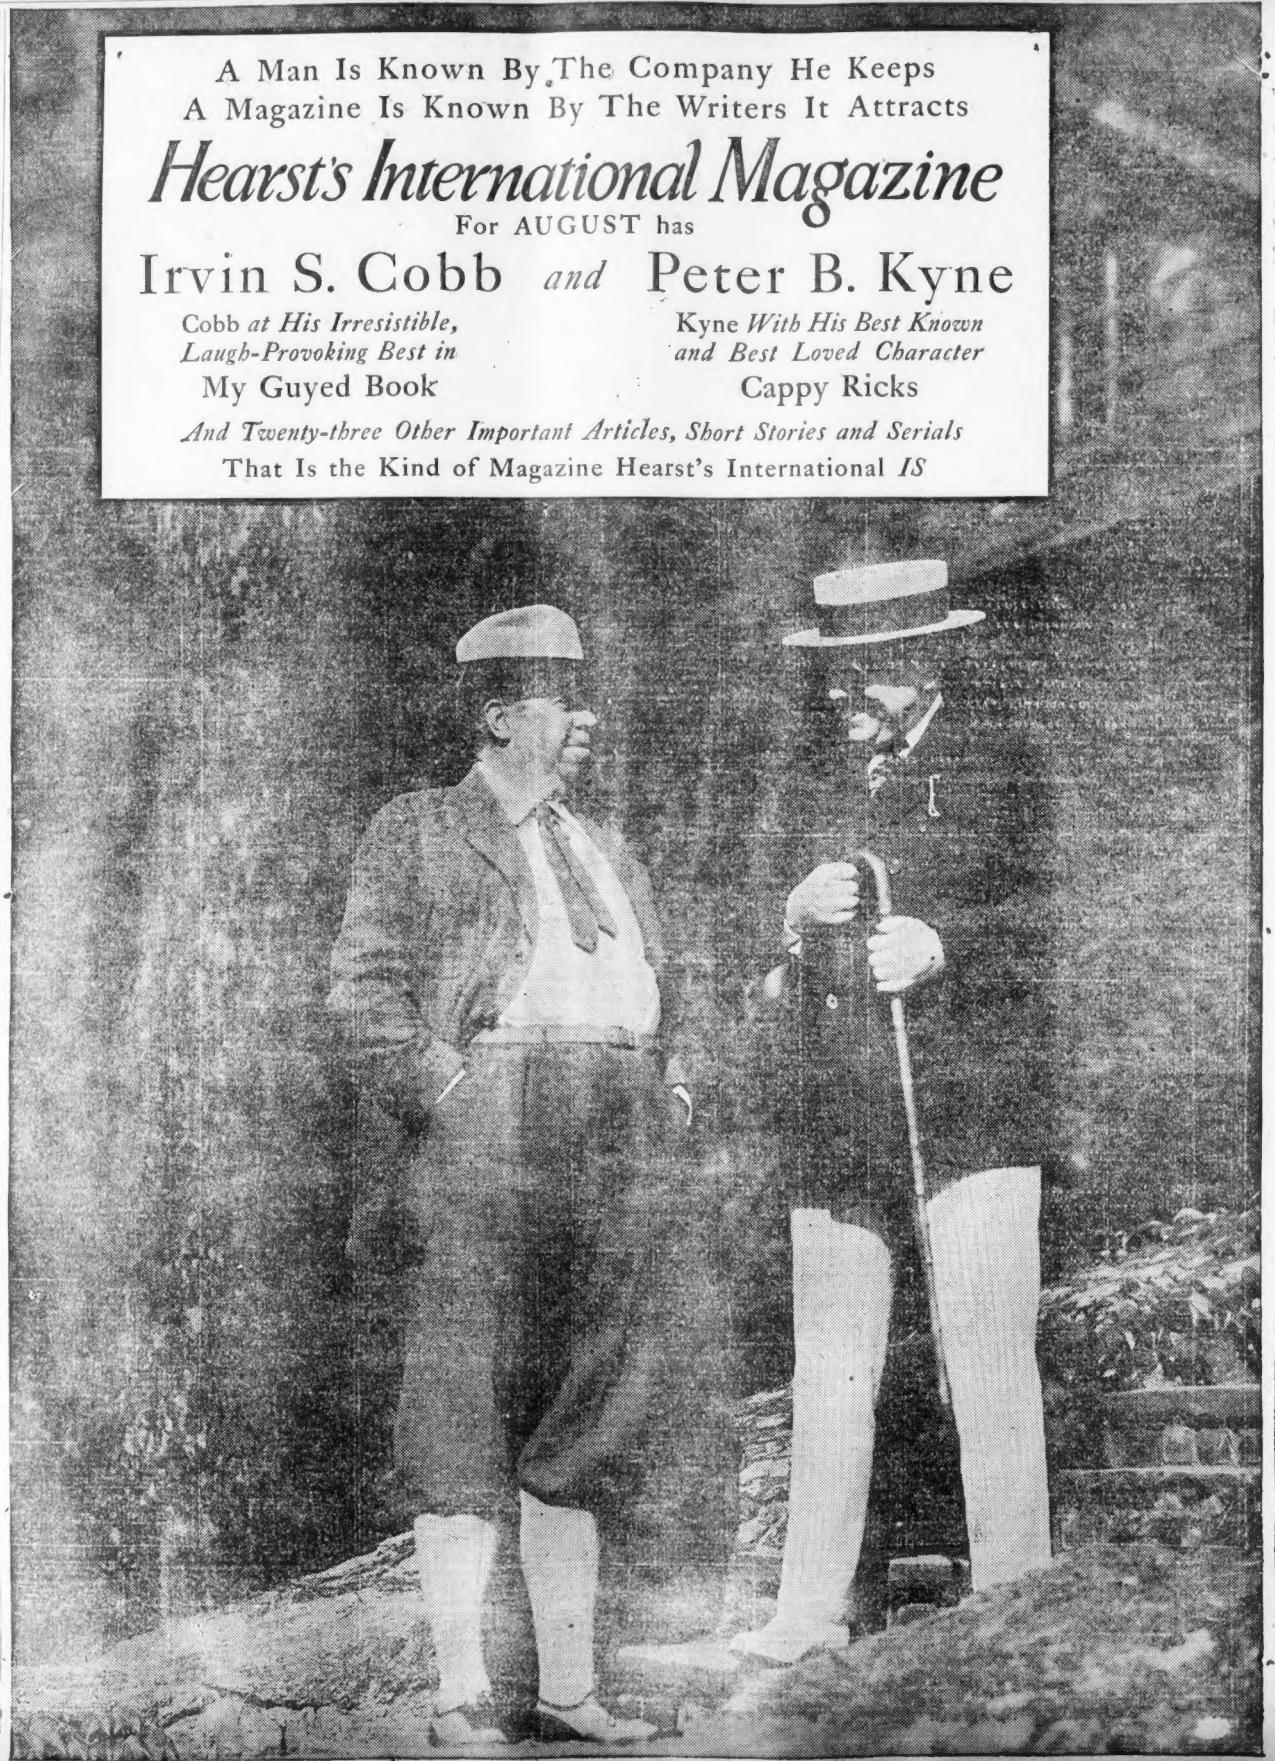

BOMBING LEADS TO FASCISTI ARREST.

Benevento, Italy, July 24.—The explosion of a hand grenade in the entrance to the hall of the Popular party caused much excitement today. Two Fascisti, among the number arrested, were immediately expelled from the party. Severe measures are to be taken against the culprits by the Fascisti authorities who deplore the latest outrage.

ROBBER BEATS MAN WHO REFUSES MONEY

Straggling into the City Hospital with a battered face, Peter Murray of No. 85 Franklin street, Charlestown, told hospital attendants he had been assaulted on Albany street, the rear of the hospital, by a man who demanded money. Murray declares that when he refused the man struck him on the face and ran away. The police were notified.

TAMING THE YOUTH

The Great Reform Novel of the Year, Baring Innermost Secrets of Luxury-Loving Class

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE.

Mona Fairless, young, beautiful and the wife of a consulting engineer, has been told by her physician, Bob Osterlund, who is in love with her, that she has only a short time to live. Mona gives a party, telling Pat to go to bed, but the latter ignores a sister's dress, steals downstairs and has "a taste of life." Mona dies and Constance receives a call from Gary Scott, her mother's first admirer. Scott is much taken with Pat. A party is planned for the housewife to christen the new swimming pool. A thunder storm puts out the lights and the guests go into the water without clothes. Dec modestly insulates on the balcony and then—the lights came on, revealing her in a blinding glare. Pat succumbed to Gary Scott. The husband is badly hurt, she refuses to clope with Wollaston. Pat confesses to Dee her relations with Gary. She goes to New York to see Ralph Fenwick "Hossie" and is invited to Edna Carroll's parties. She meets Leo Stenak, and in going to go him in Boston, but his appearance kills her love.

NOW GO ON WITH THIS ENTHRALLING STORY.

LATER as the tragedy became a commonplace to Pat, she drifted with it. It was natural to the shallow fancies and shifting interests of her youth that she should unconsciously drop out of mind that slight and shadowed personality in the big house across the river. When she did think of it, temporarily with approach would come her there two or three times in a week. But there seemed to be nothing that she could do, and she would drop away again.

It was an episode of one of these visits that changed her attitude. On her arrival she had told her that Jim was probably asleep, she could creep in softly and see the attendant who pushed the wheel-chair out. Thinking to the open door Pat peered in at the crack. Tim Johnson, her very first and still on the shadowy dawn, apparently sleeping. Pat was just about to turn away with a sense of relief when she noticed the hand resting on it. It was so faintly clenched that the flesh around the palm was white. His head turned away gradually, bringing the contour of the face into view. She saw that the face was closed, that in the corners two deep, dark lines were etched slowly, slowly, as if wrung from the very core of a sad and repressed agony. The dreamer looked down, trickled down like rain across a step. A slight shudder of his breast. Then he was in the middle again.

Pat crept away until she reached the refuge of the lower floor. She ran into the kitchen, down on running to the door, and then she came back, here herself, bent and as if, she did not collapse, she did not cry, but unconsciously and almost involuntarily thought it to be a relief, plain face, and she stood motionless on top of a doorway looking down at his lightest street. Pat was suddenly aware.

As soon as she recovered breath and pulse she returned to the house with a plan in mind, stamped mostly with the idea and entered the sick room.

"Hello, Jimmie!"

"Hello, Pat." His face lighted

TENDLER LANDS—Early in the second Tendler drives right to stomach. Benny partly blocks punch with his left arm.

THE FIRST ROUND. Tendler was first to lead. He was short with a right. They sparred cautiously. Both men were short with leads. They swapped punches but no damage was done.

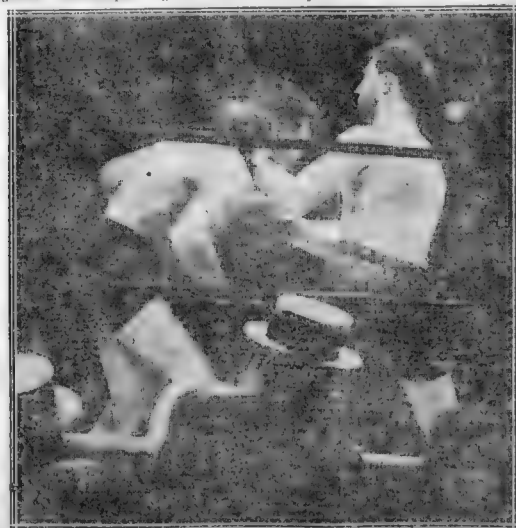

SLOW ACTION. It was at this stage of the fight in the eighth round of the semi-final that the fans started the well-known razz.

HANGING ON FOR DEAR LIFE. In the fifteenth round a left followed by two rights to the jaw made Tendler clutch Benny tightly.

FIRST REAL FIGHTING. In the third round the boys got in their first licks. Leonard hooked a short right to chin and Tendler ran away. Right after this Leonard pumped a right uppercut to Tendler's jaw.

ROUGE, POWDER HARMLESS, SAY HUB EXPERTS

It is a common belief that the use of rouge and powder is harmful to the skin. However, experts in the field of dermatology have recently conducted a series of experiments which have shown that the use of these cosmetics is entirely harmless, provided they are used in moderation and with proper care.

The experiments were conducted by a group of scientists at the University of California, who used a special apparatus to measure the amount of light reflected from the skin. They found that the use of rouge and powder did not in any way affect the skin's ability to reflect light, and therefore did not cause any harm to the skin.

It is important to note, however, that the use of these cosmetics should be limited to a thin layer. Thick applications can clog the pores of the skin and lead to the formation of pimples and other blemishes. Therefore, it is best to use a small amount of cosmetic and to apply it carefully with a brush or sponge.
